Dear Max:

As I have advised your office in your absence, Mrs. Dulles and I are accepting with very great pleasure your good invitation to join you at the Army-Navy game on November 29th. We shall not be able to take advantage of your kind offer to accompany you up and back on your plane as we had previously told our old friend, Mott Malin, we would accompany him on his special railroad car for the occasion.

I have noted with much interest some reports coming in from your present trip to the Far East. When you are back and settled down a bit I am looking forward to having a good talk with you on your observations and reactions.

Again, many thanks for your thoughtfulness.

Faithfully yours,

Allen W. Dulles
Director

MEMORANDUM FOR: MR. DULLES

You indicated you wanted to personally send a note to Max Taylor. He does not return from his trip to the Far East until 7 November. However, I believe his office would like to know that you and Mrs. Dulles plan to accept his invitation, meeting him in Philadelphia, in order that they can "earmark" tickets.

Dear Allen:

With the football season under way, it is not too early to make plans for the coming Army-Navy game on November 29th. The Taylors would be delighted if you and Mrs. Dulles could join our party in flying up to Philadelphia to contribute support to the Army Team. If you can get away at that time, as I sincerely hope you can, please let me know and I shall earmark a pair of my tickets for you.

With warm regards,

Sincerely,

MAXWELL D. TAYLOR
